Welcome to DAFT's 2017 Michigan Student Film Festival!

As we approach next year's 50th anniversary of the longest-running student film festival in the country, we have much to be excited about. We want to thank our hard-working volunteer board for Digital Arts, Film and Television as we undertook exciting changes to this year's festival including an all-digital feedback form for judging, new awards, scholarships and opportunities for our students and teachers.

In December, nearly 150 students from 14 school districts met at DAFT's Media Student Symposium to not only meet media professionals in hands-on workshops but to meet one another as well and learn the most important skill in the business--networking. DAFT encourages all teachers and students attending today to reach out to one another after you see some great work in our Best of Show reels, but also look up some of the outstanding filmmakers in all the other award categories listed in this program.

The spirit of collaboration and constant support for our young artists could not be possible without our generous sponsors listed herein, but also in the hope and continuous learning that goes on in the life of every true artist.

And the best lesson is, as every successful DAFT alumnus can tell you, what may win first-place in one festival may not make a screening in the next. Students, please continue to seek the best way for your amazing stories to be told and don't be afraid to ask for help and share your vision--the best partner you may ever know could be sitting in the seat right behind you!

Judging and Awards

Recognized by the American Film Institute as the longest-running K-12 student film festival in the nation, the Michigan Student Film Festival was founded by the non-profit DAFT (Digital Arts, Film and Television) as a showcase for Michigan students to demonstrate their skills and to network with one another and industry professionals.

The Judging Process

On March 11th, first-round judging took place in twelve judging rooms (at the University of Phoenix Campus in Southfield and at Careerline Tech Center in Holland) with over 75 judges viewing entries from across the state. After each viewing, every judge completes a digital review form which will be returned to the students--rarely done in film festivals. Then the room leader facilitates a group recommendation for one of the following levels of recognition:

Merit Certificate - Commendation for undertaking and completing a media production.

Honor Certificate - Cited for a higher than average level of quality in their content and/or technical achievement.

Excellence Certificate - Cited for a higher than average level of quality in their content and/or technical achievement.

Best of Show Certificate and Trophy - Chosen from the Excellence level to represent the best student work at the Festival screening.

Based upon the judging input and room-recommendations, the top recommended films were sent on to the next round held on March 24th at Specs Howard School of Digital Arts to determine the Best of Show reel for today's screenings.

All videos that are honored as "Best of Show" will also be screened elsewhere, including the Michigan Youth Arts Festival, and the Cinetopia International Film Festival (June 2017 in Detroit and Ann Arbor).

Funding the Festival: The 49th Michigan Student Film Festival is supported primarily through a key grant from the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs and a generous grant from Mary Beth Castorri, honoring her late-husband, producer, Ron Castorri. The MCACA grant requires matching funds which is gathered through DAFT student, adult and institutional memberships and festival entry submission fees of $12 per entry.

Scholarships: We want to thank our partner colleges for the generous support of full and partial scholarships for our students, including:

- Lawrence Technological University (Southfield) - a $2,500 annual scholarship
- Motion Picture Institute (Troy) - a full one-year scholarship
- Specs Howard School of Media Arts (Southfield and Farmington Hills) - a full one-year scholarship
- University of Detroit Mercy (Detroit) - a $2,500 annual scholarship
- Michigan Youth Arts Festival - 6 full scholarships for three days in May at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo for Focal Point 2017, DAFT's Summer weeklong film-camp

Special Prizes: Thanks to the generosity of our donors, we are able to offer additional prizes to be announced at today's festival, including..

DAFT Teacher of the Year: Kurt Mayry

Kurt Mayry's early aspirations were to be a cartoonist, but he fell in love with filmmaking in junior high, won a top award in the Michigan Student Film Festival in 1985 and his career was launched. Kurt is a graduate of the University of Michigan with BBA in Business Administration. Since 1993 he has produced a number of indie feature films and he is currently working on the sequel to an earlier film and a reality television pilot. In 1995 he cofounded the Motion Picture Institute in Troy and has helped it grow to be a premiere regional training facility. But Digital Arts, Film & Television (DAFT) has chosen to honor Kurt for the amazing support he has provided to the youngest filmmakers. He donates facilities and his professional staff for DAFT's seminars and special events that reach hundreds of high school students and teachers each year. His mentorship and support of students continues after they leave his programs and he is instrumental in facilitating the link between students and working professionals in a field that is built on those connections. Kurt is the president of the Michigan Association of Career Colleges and Schools, and a Board member of DAFT.

Thanks to the following schools, organizations and teachers for their outstanding dedication and submissions to the 2017 Michigan Student Film Festival!
